

Ed Dandridge

Chair of the Board of Directors, Susan G. Komen®

---

With more than 30 years' experience in senior leadership roles with four Fortune 500 companies, Ed serves on executive management teams of leading global companies and works closely with Boards of Directors.

In his role as SVP & Chief Communications Officer of Boeing, Ed served on the company's Executive Council and oversaw all aspects of Boeing's communications, including business unit communications, corporate communications, media relations, public affairs, leadership communications, employee engagement and corporate marketing.

Prior to Boeing, Ed was Global Chief Marketing & Communications Officer for AIG General Insurance. Previously, he was Chief Marketing & Communications Officer for Marsh & McLennan Companies and held other leadership roles including Chief Marketing Officer of Collective; Chief Communications Officer of Nielsen and VP of Disney's ABC Television Network.

Formerly, Ed was President & Chief Executive Officer of the National Association of Investment Companies, an industry trade group representing diverse middle market private equity and venture firms.

Ed serves on the President's Advisory Committee of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. He is Chair of the National Board of Directors of Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

A Member of the Executive Leadership Council, Ed is Vice Chair of the Board of Directors. Since 2010, he has been recognized by Savoy Magazine as one of the "Top 100 Most Influential Blacks in Corporate America."

Ed graduated cum laude, from Tufts University, and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Law. He began his career as a lawyer in private practice in NYC.

The son of a U.S. diplomat, Ed has lived and worked in Africa, Asia, Europe and North America.

