Kerry Herbert

Kerry Herbert is a dedicated community leader and philanthropist with a deep passion for giving back and preserving California's rich cultural heritage. A native Californian, she developed an early appreciation for philanthropy through her grandparents, whose influence shaped her belief in contributing time, talent, and resources to meaningful causes.

Kerry serves on the Board of Directors for the Mission San Juan Capistrano Preservation Foundation, where she plays an active role in supporting the Mission's preservation and community outreach efforts. Alongside her husband, Gavin Herbert Jr., she has generously supported the Mission's annual fundraiser gala for many years, underwriting the floral design and décor through Roger's Gardens to create a beautiful and memorable experience that helps raise critical funds.

Her commitment to philanthropy is rooted in her belief that leading with heart creates meaningful impact and inspires others to give. In addition to her work with the Mission, Kerry has been a longstanding supporter of the Crystal Cove Conservancy, where she has served on the Gala Committee for over a decade. Kerry has volunteered for the Free Wheelchair Mission, and together with Gavin supports Susan G. Komen and Chapman University.

Kerry's professional background includes a successful career in hospitality, with over 20 years at Four Seasons Hotels, where she developed her passion for exceptional experiences and bringing people together. She is known for her love of entertaining and creating warm, welcoming environments that foster connection and community.
