

Ria Williams

Chief Financial Officer

As chief financial officer for Susan G. Komen®, Ria Williams is responsible for all financial matters affecting the world's largest breast cancer organization, including the oversight of Komen's finance and accounting systems. Williams will guide financial strategy for operations at Komen's headquarters as well as its global network of Affiliates.

Williams joined Komen in 2004 as Accounting Manager, transitioning to Assistant Controller and later becoming Director of Financial Analysis and Reporting. Williams was promoted to Corporate Controller in 2015, where she directed a team of accounting staff responsible for financial compliance to GAAP (Generally Accepted Accounting Principles) of 100 separately incorporated organizations with consolidated revenue of $275M. During her tenure at Komen, Williams worked on the PeopleSoft implementation, consolidating 123 business units into one central accounting system, directed the implementation of budget software and has focused on many process improvement initiatives.

Williams brings to Komen more than 20 years of experience in the accounting field. Prior to coming to Komen she worked at PriceWaterhouseCoopers, LLP and InfoTrain Solutions, Inc. She is also a licensed Certified Public Accountant.

Williams received her Bachelor's of Business Administration and Masters of Science in Accounting from Texas A&M University. She and her family live in the Dallas area.